FARM CLAIMS DISMISSED

Prosecutors told the Old Bailey John Fowler's £2 million home, Elderden Farm in Chart Hill Road, Staplehurst, was used by the Securitas robbers before the £53 million raid. Mr Fowler said he was asleep at the time of Britain's biggest ever robbery, and was cleared by the court

■ BY JON COATES

A WEALTHY car dealer who was at first seen as the mastermind behind the £53 million Securitas heist has emerged as a 'fall guy' for the robbers.

Five men were caged yesterday afternoon at the Old Bailey for a total of 70 years for their part in the armed raid on the cash depot in Tonbridge.

But the rich playboy, at first portrayed by the national media as the ringleader behind Britain's largest cash robbery, was cleared of all charges.

John Fowler, 59, from Staplehurst, spent two years in custody before being cleared at the Old Bailey in London on Monday of conspiracy to kidnap, to commit robbery and to possess a firearm.

He was arrested with business associate Stuart Royle, 49, from Maidstone, after a police marksman on a motorbike dramatically shot the tyre of a BMW car in Tankerton in February 2006 and they were surrounded.

After his arrest tales emerged of his passion for the high-life.

But his friends and associates at the time said he was a wheeler-dealer who had probably got caught up in the heist without realising it.

Prosecutors had claimed that Mr Fowler's £2 million home – Elderden Farm in Chart Hill Road – was used by the gang before the raid.

In the days after the heist £30,000 from the Securitas depot was found in the boot of a car there – along with £105,600 in a bin liner buried

Trust receives praise for its maternity care

■ BY LAUREN MUMFORD

PREGNANT women in the county town are receiving the best maternity care in Kent, a national study has revealed.

A Healthcare Commission survey has rated maternity services provided by Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells NHS Trust as 'better performing' – which no other trust in Kent has ever achieved.

But emergency maternity services will soon not be available in Maidstone, with patients being taken to Tunbridge Wells if there are complications in births under proposed changes to healthcare provision.

Head of midwifery services, Gillian Duffey, said: "We are delighted. The rating is a reflection of the hard work and dedication of our staff."

The national review of services by the government health advisors, which took place last summer, was the first of its kind and aims to encourage improvement to get all NHS trusts to perform to the standard of the best.

As a result of the survey several improvements have already been made or are currently being made to the maternity services at Maidstone Hospital.

More antenatal classes are now being held and staffing levels are being increased to continue to help improve the service women receive.

Maidstone and Weald MP Ann Widdecombe welcomed the recent improvements in the standard of care at Maidstone Hospital.

She said: "I went in to Maidstone Hospital over Christmas and it was really very positive and upbeat. The relatives and the patients were happy."

But she added she is against the highly-rated maternity services being transferred to Tunbridge Wells under the proposed changes given the green light by Health Secretary Alan Johnson last month.

Miss Widdecombe said: "Well it would be nice if we could keep it in Maidstone."

"We will only have basic child birth facilities in Maidstone, but if a woman has complications she will then be driven to Tunbridge Wells."

"But what woman about to give birth, in pain and with the worry of complications, wants to go 17 miles on B roads to Tunbridge Wells?"

The Healthcare Commission nationally ranked 38 trusts maternity services as 'best performing', 47 as 'better performing', 32 as 'fair performing' and 31 as 'least well performing'.

NEWS IN BRIEF

More drivers caught without car insurance

THE number of vehicles seized by police for not having insurance has increased in the last year.

Official police figures have revealed that 379 vehicles were seized across Maidstone in 2007 compared to 239 vehicles in 2006, which police are putting down to its increase in joint operations.

Police have been working with other agencies, including Maidstone council and the DVLA.

Cheap home scheme wins council backing

MAIDSTONE council is putting cash into a new scheme for affordable homes in the county town.

Councillors have agreed to give 'not-for-profit' developers Town and Country Housing Group £650,000 to build a block of 67 flats in Beaconsfield Road, in Tovil.

The site, which overlooks the River Medway will have 67 flats in two apartment blocks that are close to local services and facilities.

Disgraced NHS boss to get £75,000 pay-off

THE shamed chief executive of the NHS trust at the centre of a fatal superbug scandal will receive a £75,000 pay-off.

Rose Gibb resigned ahead of a Healthcare Commission report into two outbreaks of Clostridium difficile, which led to the deaths of at least 90 patients, at Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells NHS Trust hospitals.

A trust spokesman confirmed on she had received severance pay.

KCC scheme to give young more freedom

BY LAUREN MUMFORD

THOUSANDS of young people have been given greater freedom thanks to a new bus pass which aims to reduce traffic on the roads.

Kent County Council leader Paul Carter was joined by a handful of school children from Maidstone Girls Grammar School to help celebrate the launch of the Kent Freedom Pass.

The scheme is an initiative that allows young people between the ages of 11-16 to travel on any public bus service in Kent anytime, anywhere, making travelling easier and more affordable.

From June, the pass will be available to all school children in Maidstone and Tonbridge and Malling, giving young people independence as well as helping reduce the amount of congestion on the boroughs roads.

Mr Carter said: "The Freedom Pass really empowers young people because they can use their pass to travel in the evenings and at weekends, giving them freedom to access a wider range of sports and leisure activities. It will also give parents more choice when choosing schools."

KCC is the first authority in the country to introduce the scheme which costs parents just £50 a year and is applied for through their child's school.

Maidstone Girls Grammar School students Abi Mesnard, 14, and Hannah Sewell, 14, said: "Spending £1.50 everyday on a day return to school all adds up. Our parents will be pleased they don't have to drive us into town anymore and now we can go to other places in Kent."

The scheme has been dubbed an "all-round winner" by the cabinet member for environment, highways and waste Keith Ferrin, who also attended the launch.

The idea for free youth travel originally came from Kent Youth County Council, a non political party organisation made up of 48, 11-18 year olds who all live in the county. The group discuss and propose schemes that benefit Kent's youngsters.

Following a successful trial in Canterbury, Tunbridge Wells and Tonbridge, the freedom pass scheme will eventually be rolled out across Kent over the next 18 months - going county wide from June 2009.

For more information about the scheme visit www.kent.gov.uk/kentfreedompass.

Grant denies Labour claims

A TORY parliamentary candidate has defended herself after it emerged she used to belong to the Labour Party.

Helen Grant, who was chosen last week as Ann Widdecombe's successor to defend the Maidstone and Weald seat, has denied claims she put herself forward as a Labour council candidate in Croydon.

She said: "I have never been a member of the Croydon Labour Party. I was a member of the Reigate and Banstead branch from mid-2004. People from poor or minority ethnic backgrounds often unthinkingly consider Labour their party, but during my brief flirtation with the Labour Party I found them arrogant, complacent and un-inclusive."

The family lawyer stands to become Kent's and the Conservative's first black female MP.

She added: "When David Cameron became leader of the Conservatives I was completely inspired by his vision of inclusiveness, opportunity and trust in people."

"This led to me join the Conservatives in January 2006, having already resigned from the Labour Party."

under logs, and a receipt for two disc cutters.

Mr Fowler, did not give evidence at the trial, but told cops he was asleep at the time of the robbery and was unaware of the gang's activities.

He blamed car dealer Royle, who ran Wateringbury Car Sales, for implicating him.

Mr Fowler, a father-of-three convicted of fraud in 1992, lives with wife Linda, on the two-acre farm.

Signwriter Keith Borer, 54, from Maidstone was cleared of handling stolen goods.

At the Old Bailey yesterday Royle was sentenced to a minimum of 15 years; Lea Rusha, 35, from Southborough, was also given a 15-year minimum; Jetmir Bucpapa, 26, from Tonbridge, faces deportation after he has served his 15-year minimum; the "inside man" Emir Hysenaj, 28; from Crowborough, was told he would serve a 10-year minimum and Roger Coutts, 30, from Welling, also will serve at least 15 years.

A number of other arrests have been made and a further trial is expected.

Highways Agency holds up decision on M20 terminal

BY SIMON ROBINSON

THE council decision on whether controversial plans to build a giant freight terminal gets the go-ahead has been delayed.

The Highways Agency wants to see "more complete and accurate" information on the traffic impact of the proposed 270-acre, road-to-rail depot before Maidstone council approves or denies planning permission.

The developers of Kent International Gateway have proposed a freight interchange complete with large warehousing and offices on a site the size of 100 football pitches on countryside near junction 8 of the M20 - on the outskirts of the picturesque village of Bearsted.

Maidstone council's planning committee was due to come to a decision by February 13, but now the agency, which is part of the Department for Transport, has asked for more information the date will be pushed back.

The planning application already consists of more than 20 documents including a large two volume environmental impact assessment.

Maidstone council's director of operations, Alison Broom, said: "This information will allow the Highways Agency to provide us with a full assessment of the likely impact of the proposal on traffic and roads."

Residents and businesses will also be given a second opportunity to give their comments if the new information from the developers adds substantial details or changes the proposals. More than 3,500 people have already commented on the application.

When the new information has been received, residents can view it along with all the other details on www.digitalmaidstone.co.uk, at the town hall, the council offices in London Road and Tonbridge Road, libraries and from some parish councils.

Elderly have face-to-face meeting with the police

POLICE chiefs visited a care home this week to find out how policing could be improved for the elderly.

Ann Barnes, chair of the Kent Police Authority, and members of Kent police's research team visited the Rosemary Graham Day Care Centre in Somner Walk, Parkwood, to find out what its residents want to make them feel safer.

Ms Barnes said: "It really is so important that we go and find out what people think and feel face-to-face."

£200,000 renovation for old working men's club

A FORMER working men's club is being transformed into a 'comfortable and welcoming' local village pub by a Kent brewer.

Shepherd Neame will spend £200,000 to turn The Ditton Club, a Victorian building, into a pub serving food.

The brewer has owned the property in New Road, which is now undergoing a major facelift, since the 1950s.

The ten-week project started on January 14, with the pub scheduled to open its doors for the first time in April.

New headteacher takes reins at Sutton Valence

A LEADING school has appointed an experienced new headteacher to take it forward.

Craig Gibbs has taken the top job at Sutton Valence Preparatory School to carry on the work of Tony Brooke.

Mr Gibbs was previously headmaster of Spring Grove School at Wye, near Ashford, which achieved an 'outstanding' grading in its most recent Ofsted report.

Mr Brooke has decided to leave Sutton Valence after ten years to take up a new post as head of Glasgow Academy Prep School.

College receives a 'good' report from inspectors

A TOP agricultural college has received a "good" rating from education inspectors.

Hadlow College, which takes students aged 16 and over to study land-based subjects, has welcomed the positive Ofsted report published this week.

The Post 16 Good survey, published following visits to colleges that offer vocational training, stated: "There is a strong emphasis on the development of good practical skills, which supports students in reaching industry levels of competence."

How drivers will pay for rubbish collections Council set to increase parking fees

■ BY LAUREN MUMFORD

COMMUTERS and shoppers are set to be hit with higher parking fees to raise £100,000 to pay for weekly rubbish collections.

Councillors will decide at a meeting next month whether to increase fees for council car parks and on-street parking in the town centre by between 20p to 50p.

Councillors say extra funds will be used to maintain the current weekly collections and avoid the need to move to fortnightly pick-ups seen in other parts of Kent.

Environmental councillor Tony Harwood said: "The parking charges are quite minimal, with the highest increase being 50p and then others by either 20p or 30p.

"Charges for on-street parking would go up by 25 to 33 per cent depending upon length of stay while evening charges would rise by 50 per cent and the 'up to three hours' tariff is set to go up by 14 per cent."

Businesses could also be hit with a parking permit increase from £70 to £100 per year.

Mr Harwood said: "Since the Lib Dems took back leadership of Maidstone council, our commitment has been to retain and pay for the weekly refuse collection, which is what the residents said they wanted.

"These small changes to parking tariffs are the only way of doing that without affecting front-line services – I think that is the best thing to do and hope the public of Maidstone feel the same way."

Unfair

But Tory councillor Bruce Pollington has branded the hike-up as unfair on car users, saying: "This is a shameful money-making scheme thrust on motorists."

New research has shown that people living and working in Maidstone are set in their ways and will continue to drive into town even if parking fees rise.

RISING COSTS: Environmental councillor Tony Harwood says that the new parking charges are 'quite minimal'

According to a poll by Local Opinion, 57 per cent of residents who drive to work have never used or considered using public transport.

It found the three most important factors in persuading car users to use public transport to travel to work was frequency of buses (44 per cent), cheaper fares (43 per cent) and reliability (37 per cent).

Ann backs book of condolence

POLITICIAN Ann Widdecombe joined war veterans at the Town Hall on Friday to sign a book of condolence for soldiers killed in battle.

The tribute will be presented to 36 Engineer Regiment when they return to Maidstone from an arduous six-month tour of Afghanistan in March.

Councillors voted to open a book of condolence last month as a mark of respect to those who paid the ultimate sacrifice for their country.

Corporal Ivano Violino was killed in war-torn Helmand province last September and Lance Corporal Jake Alderton died in the same region in November.

The Maidstone and Weald MP said: "These soldiers gave their lives for us. It is important people sign this book. It should be full of names."

The black book will be kept on the front desk of the tourist information centre until it is presented to the soldiers.

Members of the public can sign it from Monday to Saturday between 9am and 5pm, and on Sunday between 10am and 4pm.

The regiment is based in Maidstone, but in recent history has spent more time serving abroad than any other in the Army.

A 'Welcome Home' parade is currently being organised by the council.

STRIKE A LIGHT: Half the street lights in Park Way, Coxheath have been given new energy-efficient bulbs

Street light plan will cut electric bills

A NEW low-energy bulb is being tested in street lights in the county town in a bid to save millions of pounds of taxpayers' money every year.

Half of the street lighting in Park Way, Coxheath, has had its bulbs switched to a greener lower-energy and cost-effective kind, as part of an experiment by Kent County Council.

It is hoped that if the trial is successful, the new 28-watt bulbs will replace the original 80-watt ones currently found in street lights across the county.

KCC cabinet member for highways Cllr Keith Ferrin said: "Kent would be the first in the country to introduce low-energy bulbs, but this would depend on the outcome of a trial."

"This is new technology. As far as we know, nobody else is trialing it in the UK and we need to be sure it does work."

The switch would reduce Kent's light energy bill from £4.5 million a year to as little as £1.5m, saving the county a huge £3m.

■ BY LAUREN MUMFORD

The trial follows the successful introduction of low-energy bulbs in traffic lights, which was rolled out across the county last year.

Maidstone Green Party co-ordinator Stuart Jeffery said: "It seems like a good idea to do that, however what would be an extra step towards becoming more ecological is to start turning the lights off after midnight until 6am."

"Pilots have been carried out in Essex for this and it was proven that there was no increase in crime, security or accidents."

Cllr Ferrin recently rejected the proposal to switch off street lights at night as he felt this would require installing costly equipment and the savings would be minimal.

"I would challenge that assumption – after all he will be putting costly LEDs in street lights."

"If he's doing that then he could easily install a timer at the same time. The long-term benefits are much greater and would out-way the initial costs," Mr Jeffery said.

KCC will monitor the effects of using the lower energy bulbs and will ask residents of Park Way what they think of the change.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Some parking fines set to increase to £70

A NEW two-tier parking fine system has been given the go-ahead – which could land errant motorists with £70 fines.

Serious parking offences such as parking on a double yellow line will be punished with the new increased penalty.

While more minor offences like vehicles overstay meters or car-park tickets will receive a £50 fine.

This new system is being rolled out across England and Wales from March 31 as part of a government shake-up of regulations under the Traffic Management Act 2004.

In some areas, including Medway, CCTV cameras will be used to catch illegally parked cars.

But Maidstone council has decided not to use the new powers, which have been dubbed 'cyber wardens', and will still use traffic wardens slapping tickets on cars.

A council spokeswoman said: "We are not going to use CCTV and the fine levels mean that some people will pay less."

Both penalties will be reduced by half if motorists pay up within 14 days, just as occurred with the current £60 parking fines.

Park users' group looking for new members to join in

A VOLUNTEER group is looking for new members to help create and maintain a quality park.

Friends of Clare Park all use the Tonbridge Road green space and lend a hand with practical park tasks, as well as giving the council feedback as park users, advising on its management and maintenance, and helping to raise funds for improvements.

Anyone interested in joining the group is invited to its next meeting at Clare Park Bowls Club Pavilion on February 12 at 6.30pm to share ideas and talk about the projects lined up for this year.

Body found in student halls of residence

A STUDENT was found dead in his room at his halls of residence at the University for the Creative Arts after a suspected suicide.

The first-year student, 22, from Lewisham, was found hanging in his room at West Tree Court near the university campus in Maidstone on January 18 at 5.07pm.

A spokesman for UCA said: "We can confirm that a first year student at the University for the Creative Arts in Maidstone was found dead in one of our halls of residence on Friday evening."

The name of the dead man has not yet been made public.

How to get fit with pole dancing

WOMEN looking to get in shape have been urged to try a fitness craze sweeping the country – pole dancing.

The gravity-defying dancing has long been seen as seedy and sleazy, through its connections with gentlemen's clubs and strip joints.

But it has moved out of the shadows and is being recognised as a performance art and a fitness favourite for thousands of women nationwide – including celebrities like Kelly Brook and Lindsay Lohan.

Lions support anti-drugs talk

AN ANTI-drink and drugs campaign kicked off its tour around schools in the borough this week.

The SNAP (Say No And Phone) programme launched at Maidstone Girls Grammar School on Monday, providing children with musical entertainment while delivering its important message.

The presentation also shows children the dangers of getting involved in anti-social behaviour and criminal damage.

The programme will run until February 6 and other schools on the tour sheet include St Simon Stock; Cornwallis; Bower Grove; Swadelands; Senacre; Maplesden Noakes; Invicta Girls Grammar; Oakwood Grammar; Valley Park and Oldborough.

Maidstone Lions Club is sponsoring the campaign.

Bryan Macarthy, from the Lions Club, said: "Having been involved with SNAP since it started almost 10 years ago, it's a cause which is close to my heart and when we were approached to fund the forthcoming tour we were delighted to be able to help."

"The scheme is not just fun for the pupils, but it also sends out an important message and if we can discourage any of these youngsters from using recreational drugs, then it's all been worth it."

The Lions Club is an international organisation which collects money and distributes it to worthwhile causes.

SIMON LACE

Q Can you tell us about yourself and your role?

A My role within Maidstone council is to provide leadership and direction for the borough's museums and heritage services.

We have three museums; Maidstone Museum & Bentsley Art Gallery, the Queen's Own Royal West Kent Regimental Museum and the Tyrwhitt-Drake Museum of Carriages. I have been in this post for almost five years and have tried to provide a new direction for the museums, giving them greater public appeal and making collections more accessible.

I'm 46 and originally from Bolton, but now live in Bearsted, where I have been since 2003, when my family and I moved from west London. We moved here because my wife I wanted more space for our children and Kent's countryside would offer a better quality of life than London.

I was also looking for a new challenge: after 12 years as curator of the Museum of Richmond I wanted to test myself in a bigger institution.

Q What does Maidstone Museum have to offer?

A The Heritage Lottery Fund described the museum as a "treasure trove". The quality of our collections is outstanding and their diversity staggering.

They include: native art from North and South America, the Pacific and Australasia; the finest ceramics collection in the region; the best collection of artefacts from the richest Anglo-Saxon region of England; over 6,000 paintings, prints and drawings and sculpture by Epstein and Moore; the most important collection of Japanese Edo-period art outside London; a comprehensive record of British flora and fauna and tens of thousands of natural history specimens from Europe and the Far East; medals and memorabilia from the Queen's Own Royal West Kent Regimental collection; and 40,000 fossils including the remains of Maidstone's very own dinosaur, the Iguanodon.

Q Can you tell us about the developments proposed for the museum?

A To celebrate our 150th birthday this year we have devised an ambitious scheme which, by 2010, will allow more people to enjoy our amazing collections.

We will extend the museum's east wing and create a more welcoming entrance, preserve the collections in new storage, create more space for the display of hundreds of new exhibits, improve public facilities and reduce the museum's carbon footprint.

The museum is recognised as a family friendly environment where children are encouraged to engage with the exhibits; old galleries have been refurbished and visitor numbers have doubled. The museum's appeal was recognised by Tourism South-East as runner-up in the Best Small Visitor Attraction category at the 2006 Excellence Awards.

With our lottery funding secured we can progress the design of the new extension. We hope work can commence on the new wing in the spring of 2009.

Q What do you consider to be Maidstone's biggest attractions?

A The museums obviously! Seriously though, I think the fact Maidstone can offer a mix of shopping, cultural and heritage facilities is a huge draw and that fact that it is so close to so many transport routes is an advantage too.

Q How could Maidstone be improved?

A We could make more of the river, it is an asset for the town but we largely ignore it.

In west London large tracts of the riverside are in regular use by people walking, enjoying a drink or a meal or engaging in some activity on the water. We have little of that here but it wouldn't take much to revitalise the riverside and make it a focus of the town.

We also need more good modern architecture – the museum's new east wing will be one of the few examples in the town centre.

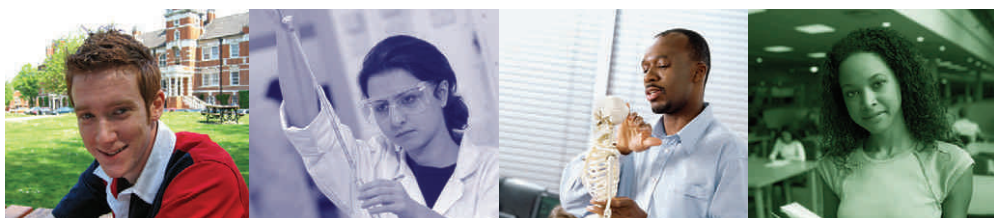

Finally I think a high-speed rail link to London would be in Maidstone's interests. It would provide a quicker commuter link and enable people who work in London to consider Maidstone as a potential home. Their investment would help drive Maidstone's services, facilities and aspirations upwards.

Q What would you say are your greatest achievements?

A If I have achieved anything here it's probably raising the profile of the borough's museums to such an extent that they are now seen as institutions worthy of support!

Brewery logs on to wi-fi technology

BY NICK AMES

A STRING of hotels across the county have become the latest to benefit from the wi-fi explosion.

Brewer Shepherd Neame has teamed up with BT Openzone to offer its customers the chance to log-on to the internet without needing to plug their machines into a phone socket.

And it is rolling out the wireless technology – which is automatically detected by built-in modems on laptops – to all 13 of its hotels in the county.

They include sites in Faversham, Canterbury, Ashford, Chatham, Deal, Broadstairs, Maidstone and Whitstable.

Technology

While the technology is not new – wi-fi is now widely deployed by business and residential users as an easy way for multiple computers to get online – the brewer hopes the technology will lure more people to stay at its hotels and then access details on local attractions and services. In addition it allows staff to log-on to help them in their daily duties.

Nigel Bunting, Shepherd Neame's retail director, said: "Having a comprehensive wi-fi network installed across Shepherd Neame hotels was an essential step forward for us."

"The service has been an instant hit, with staff and hotel guests alike. The wi-fi technology has streamlined the running of the hotel, from reception through to the back office operations."

Wi-fi is a limited range technology ideal for use in locations such as homes or businesses.

For hotel guests, it means for a small fee they can log-on to BT Openzone and within seconds be surfing the web – and checking out sites such as our very own free broadband TV site, www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

Chris Bruce, BT Openzone's general manager, added: "While we have many partnerships with big hotel brands, we are pleased to be working here in Kent with this niche chain."

"We know it is important for them to be able to provide wi-fi access to guests in today's connected market place."

Ring this number and help to foster

FOSTER care agency Family Matters are on the lookout across Kent to find people who want to look after and raise children.

The Folkestone-based agency – featured in this paper last week – is after suitable people from all walks of life to care for children after they lose their parents.

Unfortunately the number we printed last week was incorrect. The correct number to get in touch with the agency is 01303 210029.

Yourkenttv winners

THREE top videos shown on Yourkenttv have won cash prizes for their creators.

Talented Natalie Langley used the Prodigy song Under My Wheels as the soundtrack to a wild mix of stunning visuals and costumes to make Concrete Jungle.

Together with her creative partner Katie Fotis, she uses colour, graphics, effects and visuals to amazing effect.

Natalie won the KOS Media prize of £500 which was up for grabs when our broadband TV station was launched in September.

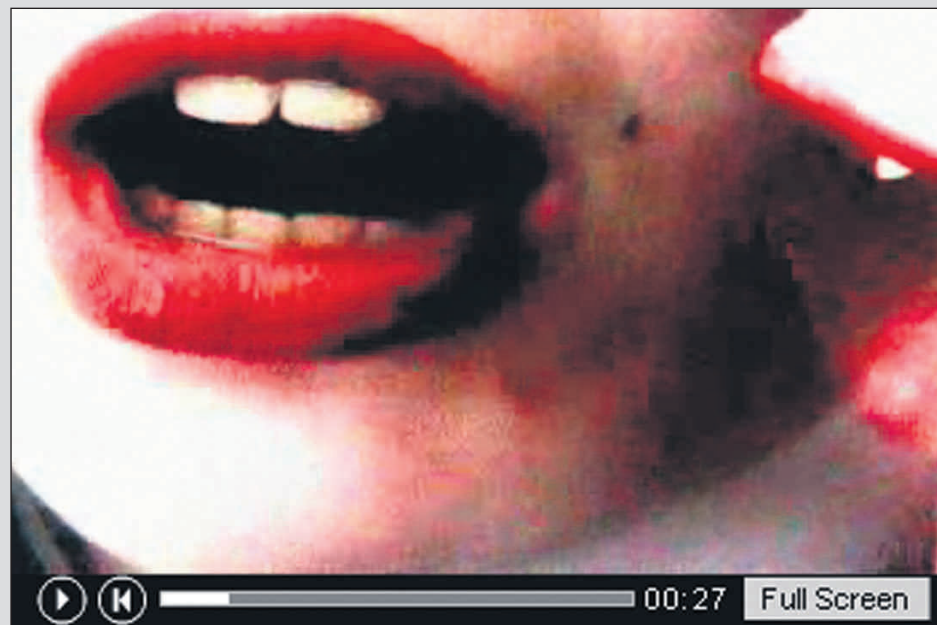

October's upload winner of £100 was Robert McMillan for his EmCee Flapjack

"music video" – the Biscuit Wrap – which has a suitable urban and gritty feel to complement street level sounds... apparently.

EmCee has continued to film and upload a series of music clips and become something of a cult figure on Yourkenttv.

November's £100 winner was Alexander Roscoe for his Sk8 Medway shoot. It saw the skateboarder performing tricks and stunts on a variety of objects from specially-created ramps and pipes, to a selection of street furniture and steps.

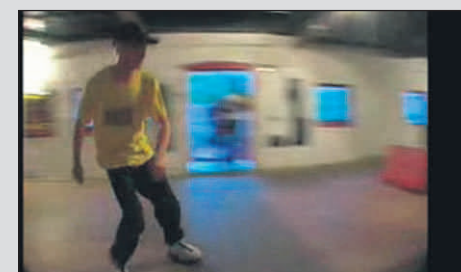

Congratulations to all three of our winners. Take a look at www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

September launch winner was Natalie Langley for Under My Wheels, £500

October winner was Robert McMillan for The Biscuit Wrap, £100

November winner was Alexander Roscoe for SK8 Medway, £100

Young reporters make headlines at KOS Media

BY CHRIS BRITCHER

THE next generation of journalists proved they had what it takes when they came to the offices of this newspaper to see a newsroom in action.

Eleven pupils from St Nicholas School in New Romney – all members of the school's journalist club – came to KOS Media's headquarters to learn about how our papers are compiled and pick up tips on their future careers.

The youngsters, all from year six, got a guided tour of the newsroom, watched how a page is made-up and met some of our sales team.

They also gained a valuable insight into the life of a journalist from senior reporter Gareth Arnold who talked them through his busy week and explained how in this day and age he needs to be able to not just write stories but shoot video too.

And proving they had what it takes to make it in the media, they didn't hesitate to ask the all important questions; such as how much do reporters earn and what scares them?

Happy student Roxanne said: "I learnt that producing a newspaper is all about teamwork, and that everyone works to deadlines. I really enjoyed myself."

Classmate Skye added: "I had a great time and learned that if you work hard you can become an editor at a young age."

And fellow club member Georgia said: "There were lots of people in the office, I only expected there to be a few because you are not a national paper."

They learned about the launch of our award-winning sister paper Kent on Sunday and how our new midweek titles – launched in September – link in to an online offering and our free broadband TV site – www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

The club were accompanied by study support supervisors Carol Harvey and Irene Hills.

Mrs Hills said: "We all had a fantastic afternoon. We were extremely impressed by the friendly office staff and the willingness from all the staff to work with the children."

"We look forward to visiting again next year."

The club produce a regular newsletter on events at the school and the town, with all the stories written by the children.

They've even had a brush with the stars, interviewing screen legend Sir Donald Sinden, who lives near Tenterden.

They also make regular trips to help their studies.

An upcoming jaunt will see them travel to London to visit the Houses of Parliament, while previous excursions have seen them given guided tours around the studios of the local BBC TV and radio stations.

You can see the ambitious youngsters being shown round the office online – simply click on to our online website www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in and around Maidstone...

Obsession with suntans is a SAD state of affairs

AS someone who has been affected by Seasonal Affective Disorder (SAD), I am well aware of the feel-good factor that sunshine brings.

January is a depressing month: cold and dark. We have had short daylight hours for such a long time now and most of us have too much month left at the end of the money. But at least the days are getting longer!

Like most things, sunshine is good for you, in moderation. Sunlight is an essential, natural source of vitamin D.

The reason SAD people feel low and depressed and lack energy and motivation is thought to be due to a lack of quality sunlight triggering chemical reactions behind our eyes.

To prevent or minimise SAD there are special lamps you can buy. However, exercise, exposure to daylight around midday in the winter and increasing Omega 3 may be just as effective.

Oils that are rich in Omega 3 are flax seed, hemp and rape-seed oils (that is, ordinary vegetable oil).

If I can afford it, I like to take a winter sunshine break. We need very little exposure to summer sunlight to meet our requirements for vitamin D or the happiness factor – about 10 minutes a day even when dressed. So I do not lie around working on a suntan.

Sun exposure has its dangers. I think we are all aware that it is linked to skin cancer, which is the cause of 2,300 deaths a year in Britain. Many people do not realise that a sunbed tan is just as harmful.

In fact, if your skin has changed colour, that in itself is a sign of damage.

If you walk through our seaside town centres you will see many new businesses have opened in recent years which offer the opportunity to be exposed to high doses of radiation.

I read that these suntan shops might expose you to rays that are 10-15 times stronger than sunlight! Would you put your baby in the microwave for a minute? No.

Generally, I'm pleased to see thriving shops in the towns, but not these ones.

I think sunbeds are bad news for the health of the population. People must chase a suntan for reasons of reckless vanity. I asked a builder about his tan last summer. His attitude was: "Live fast, die brown".

A curious and deluded approach to a suntan. Dried-out, leathery skin with a red\brown\orange\strange colour is simply not attractive. It looks bad enough on youngsters in their twenties, and by the time you are 40 you are going to look 50.

Sun exposure and cigarette smoking are the two things that really age the skin.

So those who invest in a suntan are paying for premature ageing and increased risk of cancer – nice! They are paying for wrinkles and are a funny colour.

They are paying to look 50 when they are only 40. Perhaps they will also then spend an incredible amount on beauty creams, too. I have no need, of course, as I am a pale goddess!

More information (on tans, not me!) can be found at www.sunsmart.org.uk.

DOVER - DUNKERQUE FERRIES

Name and design a mascot and WIN £2,000 for your school

EXCLUSIVE Dover-Dunkerque passenger ferry operator Norfolkline, in association with KOS Media, is inviting all Kent primary schools to enter a competition to name a new on-board mascot for their new fleet of three purpose-built ships.

In 2008, Norfolkline plan to introduce a new programme of children's entertainment on board all of their ships on the Dover-Dunkerque route and at certain times of the year the newly-chosen mascot will be on the ships to entertain children and families during the two-hour crossing.

Norfolkline and KOS Media are inviting all primary schools throughout the county to enter.

Entries can be sent in either as a school group, school children independently, but sent in with a counter signature by the form teacher. Three suggestions of names are permitted per entry.

There are no other restrictions and 'Name The Mascot' suggestions do not necessarily have to have a nautical or French theme.

To accompany all entries, Norfolkline and KOS Media would also like to receive an illustration of the number one choice of name – or all three choices if preferred – along with a written description and the history/ thoughts that have gone into coming up with the idea for a mascot's name.

Travel prizes of return ferry crossings with Norfolkline for a car and up to five passengers on the Dover – Dunkerque route will also be awarded to the runner-up and third-placed entries.

More information about Norfolkline operations can be found at www.norfolkline.com.

NAME THE MASCOT COMPETITION

Send in your entries by completing the form below and then post to:

TALK TIME

SHARON GREENSLADE

The associate director of Local Opinion tells Yourmaidstone about the new market research venture started in the county town

Can you tell us about your job?

I work for Local Opinion, which is part of Lake Communications, an independent Kent-based market research company.

Local Opinion gives residents in Maidstone the opportunity to have a say about their area on various issues and the information gathered can be used by those who wish to gain information on local opinion and consumer attitudes.

We survey Maidstone residents who want to have their say about the area; the results reflect the real nature of public feeling in the borough.

This information can be used by those who need to know what the people of Maidstone are thinking; that can include everyone from restaurants and pubs, to local and central government.

What makes Local Opinion different compared with other market research surveys?

Local Opinion operates on a very local level, all of our interviewers are residents of Kent and, having lived in Maidstone myself all my life, we understand the area. Our surveys feature questions specific to Maidstone. By ensuring opinions from each ward are represented, we offer the only accurate measurement of the views held by residents in Maidstone and its villages.

We have created a platform for people to express their feelings on local issues, and invite those who complete our surveys to suggest their own questions on any topic of their choice for inclusion in future surveys.

How do people get involved?

Those keen to have their say on topics affecting Maidstone can sign up on www.localopinion.co.uk or call us on 01732 874073 to get involved. You can take part online, on the phone or by post.

What renewable energy can do for us

In reply to Bill Hyde's letter in last week's paper.

The UK has the best wind power potential in Europe. Countries like Denmark and Germany have invested far more into wind farms, but their potential is far less than our own.

We can generate more electricity from wind power, mainly offshore, than any other European state, if we build enough turbines.

And the potential for jobs in Kent from safe and clean energy systems is enormous.

Wind cannot deliver us reliable power

Steve Dawe of Kent Green Party says in last week's paper that eight times more electricity could be generated than what we now use from

So Bill Hyde is wrong in assuming wind speeds are insufficient to achieve such goals when standard textbooks on renewable energy say otherwise.

After all, how much electricity we get from wind turbines annually depends on how many turbines we have built offshore: it is not just about the annual cycle of wind speeds.

However, no-one has ever argued the UK should depend on one energy technology. The best alternative to any new power station is still energy conservation.

We can easily cut energy wastage in this country by 30 per cent, and 50 per cent is possible in the long term.

This is the cheapest way to deal with energy needs. So we do not need Kingsnorth or Dungeness C.

Other renewable energy technologies which can produce large amounts of energy include wave and tidal schemes, ground source heat pumps, combined heat and power schemes and above all microgeneration.

Microgeneration means people owning their own solar water heating, solar panels for electricity, ground source heat pumps which work in the same way as heat pumps on fridges.

It is a national scandal that schools and other public buildings are not fully equipped with solar water heating and solar panels already.

I cannot stress enough how much useful employment can be created by strong commitments to energy conservation and renewable energy.

Fight for your right to a referendum

Parliament is debating the EU Reform (Lisbon) Treaty over the coming weeks and I know that this is an issue for the people across the South East, who recognise that this is a constitutional issue that requires a referendum of the people.

It was promised by all three major parties in the 2005 General Election manifestos.

Since 1975 there are 27 million people who have not had a vote on continuing economic, federalisation and closer political union.

I have been holding Pro-Referendum Action Days in constituencies across the South East and the overwhelming majority of you want a referendum.

Many of you go further and want a re-negotiation of our EU membership and a growing minority want a say in or out. I urge you to get involved.

You can also hold local parish referenda on this. An easy step-by-step guide can be found at www.iwantareferendum.com

If you don't get involved a little

Give gifts to patients, not the nursing staff

I was amazed and disgusted to read the letter from Linda Damon the Marie Curie nurse in last week's paper.

I am also a nurse and worked both Christmas and New Year, but I don't look for, or want, a pat on the back for it!

It is part of the job, we knew that

Asda recognises important work

This year, along with many Marie Curie nursing colleagues

when we took it.

We do it for the patients and for the very good pay and holidays we all get.

And don't cry that nurses are poorly paid, you tell me anywhere else you can get the pay we get.

Yes I imagine you should be grateful to Asda, but they would have been better donating those gifts to the patients who probably could have used/needed them more than the nurses.

Warm welcome for a fresh political face

I was surprised, but pleased, to read in last week's paper the local Tory party association has chosen Helen Grant as their candidate to succeed Ann Widdecombe as our MP.

While not always agreeing with the politics of Miss Widdecombe, I have always admired her straightforward, honest approach.

I expected the local association to promote a councillor from within the ranks, but it is good to see a fresh face with strong ideas.

awe-inspiring Great Wall of China.

CLIC Sargent provides crucial support for children and young people with cancer, as well as their families.

I support them because I believe that the services they provide really make a real difference to their lives.

By taking up this adventure you'll experience outstanding scenery and culture as well as making new friends along the way.

Moreover, the money you raise will help CLIC Sargent continue their work with the 10 children and young people diagnosed with cancer every day and their families.

Starting north of Beijing, the cycle from October 10-19 will take you through remote villages and along hilly roads as well as visiting the ancient Ming Tombs.

On the last day of your challenge you can either celebrate by spending time at a school in Beijing or exploring the culture, sound and smells of the China including the Forbidden City, the Temple of Heaven and the Lama Temple.

So what are you waiting for? Do something amazing in 2008 and have the adventure of a lifetime while helping children with cancer!

STILL GOING STRONG: After countless line-up changes, Fairport Convention will be playing in Kent when they celebrate their 40th anniversary

Back on the road again

Folk legends mark milestone with tour

CELEBRATE the 40th anniversary of a music legend when Fairport Convention arrives in Kent.

The band has attracted a huge fan base during its four decades in the business, as well as developing the world famous music festival at Cropredy. The line-up features founder member Simon Nicol on guitar and vocals, bassist Dave Pegg, Chris Leslie on fiddle, mandolin and vocals, violinist Ric Sanders and drummer Gerry Conway.

Over the years there have been many line-up changes, break-ups, reunions and even tragedy, as well as some unforgettable music.

The band began as a four-piece in 1967, which rehearsed at the family home of guitarist Simon Nicol. The house in North London was called Fairport, which inspired the name.

The first line-up lasted for just one gig in a church hall. When a young drummer, Martin Lamble, saw them perform, he decided he could do a much better job and took over the role from Shaun Frater.

Recruiting a female singer, Judy Dyble, helped the band stand out and, after playing at a number of underground venues, they were soon signed up to Island Records. With the addition of an extra male vocalist, the self-titled debut album was released by the end of 1967.

Things were going well, with the

FAIRPORT CONVENTION

Saturday, February 2
Assembly Hall Theatre, Tunbridge Wells

band on the brink of inventing the new genre of folkrock. A French language version of Bob Dylan's If You Gotta Go just missed out on a Top 20 chart slot, but it did lead to an appearance on Top of the Pops.

Then tragedy struck when the band's van crashed, killing Lamble and Jeannie Franklyn, the girlfriend of guitarist Richard Thompson. The devastated survivors almost gave up, but eventually they went back to the studio and recorded the classic album Liege And Lief in 1969.

During the 70s, there were a bewildering number of line-up changes and by the time the group stabilised, Fairport found itself without a record deal.

A farewell tour was staged and the final outdoor concert was held in the Oxfordshire village of Cropredy, where bass guitarist Dave Pegg lived. The following year, they performed a reunion concert at the same spot and the festival was born.

There were more line-up changes during the 80s and 90s and for a while there were two versions of Fairport running in parallel. But the 21st century has seen a stable and successful band, enjoying popular tours and some new albums released.

Fairport Convention was given the Lifetime Achievement gong at the BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards in 2002, while album Liege And Lief was voted the best folk album ever. It also won a Gold Disc in 2006 for its continuing sales.

The performance starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £18/£17. Call the box office on 01892 530613/532072 or see www.assemblyhalltheatre.co.uk.

ART 2 LOVE

Saturday, February 2, to Saturday, February 23
Liberty Gallery, Kings Hill

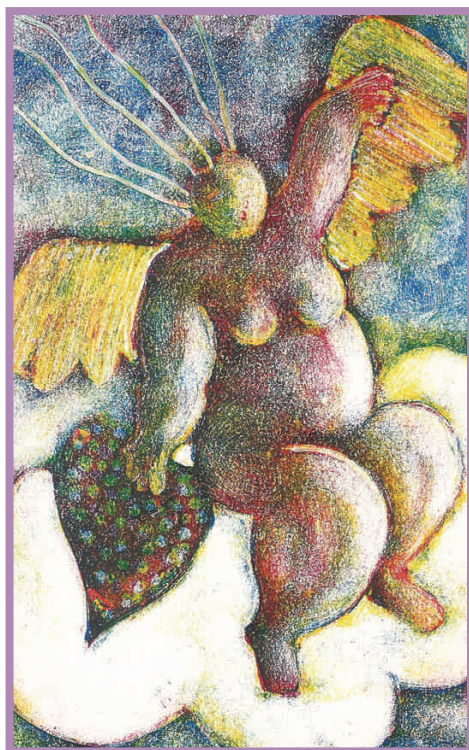

GET in the mood for Valentine's Day with an exhibition at Liberty Gallery in Kings Hill.

Art 2 Love features work by two artists, inspired by matters of the heart. Mixed media printmaker Letitia Tunstall will display her linoprints, monotypes and drypoint etchings, with love as the main theme. She trained as a graphic designer and designed book jackets, and eventually set up her own studio in Trottiscliffe, where she teaches printmaking and develops her own work.

Claire Palastanga is a ceramicist whose work has been sold in England and New York, where her pieces have appeared in various style magazines. She graduated from Kent Institute of Art and Design in 2002 with a degree in ceramics. Since then, Claire has set up her own studio in Tonbridge. She will be showing her two-dimensional wall pieces and three-dimensional spiky forms.

There will also be heart-themed jewellery and other original works on sale. The gallery in Liberty Square is open from 9am to 5.30am, Monday to Saturday. Find out more at www.liberty-gallery.com.

STEWBOSS

Monday, February 4
Zebra Bar, Maidstone

ONE of California's busiest bands is back in town next week, thanks to Maverick @Zebra Bar.

Stewboss played to a sold-out crowd when they last visited Maidstone 18 months ago and the expectations are high for the latest tour.

Heavily influenced by Bruce Springsteen, the band is no tribute act and the spirits of the Rolling Stones and Counting Crows are also embraced in the Stewboss sound.

Lead singer Gregg Sarfaty's powerful lyrics comment poetically on the folly of love and all the troubles it can bring. Billed as "American trailer park philosophy at its powerful best", the West Coast country-rock, New Jersey roots-rock is all wrapped up in a great musical stew.

Special guests Dead Rock West are not just into country and folk influences. With dashes of garage, power pop jangle and rock 'n' roll, there is plenty to keep music fans interested.

The quality of the vocal harmonies, with Cindy Wasserman and singer/guitarist Frank Lee Drennan's voices blending seamlessly, is the band's secret weapon.

The gig starts at 8pm and tickets cost £10 on the night or £8 in advance. Book your ticket in person at the Zebra Bar in King Street or call 01622 744481.

MARK SIMPSON

Saturday, February 2
Mote Hall, Maidstone Leisure Centre

EXPERIENCE the amazing talent of clarinetist Mark Simpson with the Maidstone Symphony Orchestra in concert.

The 18-year-old from Liverpool won the BBC Young Musician of the Year 2006 award and now plays principal clarinet in the National Youth Orchestra. He was also a winner in the Guardian/BBC Proms Young Composer competition in 2006. His compositions have been played by the NYO Sinfonietta and the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic Orchestra.

At Saturday's concert, he will play Weber's 2nd Clarinet Concerto, under the baton of music director Brian Wright. The performance will open with Carmen Suite by Bizet and close with Rachmaninov's romantic 2nd Symphony.

The concert starts at 7.30pm and tickets are priced from £5 to £20. To book, call the Maidstone Orchestral Society Membership Secretaries on 01622 736392, the Mote Hall box office on 0845 155 2277 or see www.mso.org.uk/tickets

Food that's so good you'll lick your plate clean

■ Pad ThaiFOUND in the High Street, West Malling, Pad Thai has one of the ultimate accolades in its particular style of cuisine.The ambassador to the UK from Thailand once said its speciality noodles are "probably the best in Europe".But it has received other – stranger – praise. One customer asked to lick the plate clean while another ordered a takeout to be flown on an aircraft with him on the 7hr 45min flight from London to New York.Manta Maythachatchaval explained how the restaurant has got its reputation: "The building is one of the oldest in the area and provides a charming backdrop to an impressive array of dishes. These are cooked using organic, free-range ingredients wherever possible, with the herbs coming direct from Thailand."The menu can be adjusted to individual requirements including vegetarian preferences."My head chef Nui has been with me for 12 years and follows my direction with finesse and commitment. We emphasise consistency and attention to detail with the quality of food combined with our service priority.

This means the ambience will be there.

"Eating at Pad Thai is all about versatility – whether you want a set menu banquet or an inexpensive 'quick plate' lunch."Their best-selling dish is a signature creation of pad Thai noodles with bean sprouts and egg served with crushed peanuts and accompanied by prawns or chicken – or left on its own.The restaurant is open from Tuesday to Sunday for lunch from noon until 2.30pm and for dinner from 5.30pm until 10.30pm, although sometimes

Tradition given a twist

THE Swan Inn, Sutton Valence, is the oldest continually open pub in Britain, having first opened its doors in 1348.

It offers traditional pub food but with some unusual and interesting alternatives alongside, such as Asian infused chicken stir fry.

This was created by a chef at the venue who was inspired on his travels. It is unique to the venue, which prides itself on bringing Pacific Rim cuisine to the heart of Kent.

But the pub is also a great supporter of food produced in Kent and gets much of its ingredients locally.

Maria O'Hara, who has cooked for former Northern Ireland Secretary Mo Mowlam and would love to share her dishes with Marco Pierre White, said: "We have quaint premises and always make customers welcome. We offer a cosy intimate restaurant with real burning fires in winter and in summer terraced gardens give stunning views across the Weald of Kent. Outside dining is a joy when the weather permits.

"The Swan Inn gives a warm, friendly welcome, with great cuisine in a lovely atmosphere. It also boasts a traditional pub setting in a great village surrounded by glorious countryside."

Lunch is offered every day from noon to 3pm and dinner is available from Tuesday to Sunday from 6pm until 9.30pm.

Enjoy a tasty spitroast

IN THE heart of the tree-lined village of Horsmonden is the unusually named Gun and Spitroast, a 16th century coaching inn.

It boasts one of the few remaining Inglenook Spitroasts in the country which allows beef, pork, ham or venison to be cooked slowly over a large apple log fire. These are all included on the a la carte menu which is served in the oak-beamed, candlelit restaurant.

The Gun and Spitroast is a quintessentially English country pub with roaring log fires in winter and a fragrant rose garden for the summer.

Princess Anne was once a guest at the venue which has been in business for five years.

Landlord Jeremy Sprimgett describes the pub as being: "In a lovely, friendly village."

Choice of menu is a priority at the pub with ambience, staff and service, location and value for money all important as well.

"Whatever you do – do it well," said Jeremy. "Old English charm, roaring log fires in an oak beamed restaurant is what we offer."

"Our chef uses local ingredients and is always looking for old English recipes such as lovage soup and ham hocks in a mustard sauce."

The pub is open from 11.30am to 11pm Monday to Saturday and on Sunday from noon until 10.30pm.

LOCAL PRODUCE

FROM Whitstable oysters to New Romney lamb, the Garden of England is home to much wonderful local fare.

Apples, strawberries and cherries are also among the best anywhere and so it is no real surprise many restaurants are turning to local produce more and more.

Chef Gordon Ramsay, pictured, is just one expert backing local produce, and when Jean-Christophe Novelli visited Bluewater's market recently he said he was amazed and impressed at the standard of Kentish produce.

The French masterchef said: "There was such a range of superb food and top quality wines. I was really impressed with the people who were selling their produce as well."

As well as the undeniable fact that local produce is fresher and does not need to be refrigerated, there are numerous other benefits.

No air miles mean fewer carbon emissions, and the cost of transport is reduced. Buying local produce also means more jobs and money coming into, instead of leaving, an area's economy.

A new initiative, Fresh Skills for Chefs aims to help cafes, bars, businesses and other food providers take advantage of the demand.

Chefs will undergo training and development on such topics as A Taste of Game, Butchery Skills and Special Diets.

Thanet Business College and the environmental foods group Produced in Kent are backing the scheme, along with Tourism South East and the South East England Development Association.

Sue Gill of the tourism group said: "The South East has a reputation for great food including our gastro-pubs, restaurants and hotels and this scheme aims to help the hospitality sector step up another level."

ON GENERAL RELEASE

THE SAVAGES (15)

The last thing the Savage siblings ever wanted was to look back at their family history. Wendy is a struggling playwright working as a temp and spending her days applying for grants whilst dating her married neighbour. Jon is a neurotic college professor. Then comes the call to say their father is being consumed by dementia and they're the only ones who can help...

IN THE VALLEY OF ELAH (15)

On his first weekend back after serving in Iraq, Mike Deerfield goes missing. Hank Deerfield, a former military man sets out to search for his son with Emily Sanders, a New Mexico police detective. But as the evidence grows, Emily's missing person's case begins to look more and more like foul play.

SYDNEY WHITE (12A)

In a college comedy that puts a modern twist on an age-old story, Sydney White tells the tale of a tomboy freshman who ditches her conniving sisters and finds a new home with a group of very dorky outcasts. Fed up with the way they've all been treated, she's off to wage war against the reigning campus royalty.

Depp's demon performance

BY BEN FALK

"I'll admit it – I have shaved a grown man before," laughs Johnny Depp, who lathers his customers before slitting their throats as the eponymous murderer in new musical Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber Of Fleet Street which hit the big screen on Friday.

"He is alive," says Johnny of his 'client'. "He's walking round to this day."

The movie – for which he has just scooped a Best Actor Golden Globe and last week an Oscar nomination for the same award – provided a new challenge for the 44-year-old, whose chameleon-like ability to slip into any character and make him original is legendary. But Sweeney Todd wasn't about mere acting.

"I had never sung a song," reveals Johnny, who used to play guitar in an 80s band called The Kids.

"I was the guy who would come in and sing the harmony, very quickly. It would be all of three seconds and then I was out."

However, he admits that music was always his first love. "I wanted to be a rock star," he says. "I didn't even think about acting. I was a musician for years before I did a movie."

So when long-time collaborator Tim Burton came along asking him to take on Sweeney – based on the famously-intricate Stephen Sondheim stage musical – Johnny decided to participate in his own mini-X Factor.

He called ex-bandmate chum Bruce Witkin and went into the studio to record one of the film's songs, on the proviso that Witkin told him truthfully if he had the vocal ability to pull off the entire movie.

Witkin remembers: "I said 'Do you want the good news or the bad news?' Johnny said,

VIEW THIS PREVIEW

yourkenttv.co.uk

'Well, give me the bad news'. And I said, 'The bad news is you're going to have to do this'."

Johnny signed up, playing the doomed anti-hero who turns to murder after his family is stolen from him and he is unjustly imprisoned for 15 years. He is joined by Helena Bonham Carter as his accomplice Mrs Lovett, the lady who comes up with the plan to dispose of the dead bodies by turning them into delicious pies. The rest of the cast includes Alan Rickman as baddie Judge Turpin and Timothy Spall as the evil Beadle Bamford.

"Sweeney's obviously a dark figure," explains Johnny. "But I think hyper-sensitive. He has experienced something very traumatic, a grave injustice and I always saw him as a victim. Anyone who is victimised and then becomes a murderer can't be all there."

Complete with gothic wardrobe and bouffant locks highlighted by a shocking streak of white, the actor ends up sounding pretty good.

CHAMELEON: Johnny Depp has landed an Oscar nomination as best actor for his role in Sweeney Todd Johnny says Sweeney and his Cockney brogue is not based on anyone in particular. The voice, he says, comes "just from spending time over in Britain".

The UK is now only a short hop from his base in France, where he lives with his two children and girlfriend Vanessa Paradis. "I don't hang out with anybody who is famous," he says of his laid-back Gallic existence. "I don't know who is rich or poor or successful and it feels good."

Indeed, he manages to pretty much stay out of the tabloids, relishing his family time.

"I just want to spend as much time with my kids as possible," he says. "Doing simple things like going out to the trampoline and swing set, or just looking in the garden to see how the tomatoes are doing – old man stuff."

BY GABRIELLE FAGAN

IMAGINE flying thousands of miles to escape the hassles of normal life and commune with nature in the raw – and ending up instead with noisy neighbours.

They roll back in the early hours, oblivious to those trying to sleep, carry on noisily partying and woe betide anyone calling time on their fun.

That's exactly what I got on safari in Kenya. For two nights outside my tent in the middle of the bush, starting with the regularity of clockwork at 3am I could hear obscene grunts and panting, and heavy bodies lurching about.

A nightmare? No, a dream come true and rather than pulling the duvet over my head and cursing I watched the outrageous antics from the safety of my tent window.

That was because the creatures aping the behaviour of the worst kind of 'chavs' abroad were hippos.

Fat, noisy beasts whose hygiene leaves a lot to be desired – their idea of a spa break is basking in thick mud on the side of the river bank – were frolicking only a few feet away.

Being so close to them was just one of the magical moments on an adventure in the heart of one of the most spectacular game reserves in the world, the Masai Mara in Kenya.

Every year, this National Park welcomes the Great Migration – two million wildebeest, zebra, and gazelle from Tanzania in search of lush grazing.

They join the resident community of other animals, including a star cast known as the Big Five because they were the most coveted by hunters – lion, African elephant, buffalo, black rhino and leopard – and a host of lesser players from hyena to monkeys.

For the first two nights we camped at Governor's Il Moran on the banks of the River Mara in a huge tent with reassuringly solid

LUXURY: Camp facilities are of the highest standard but you are part of the natural environment

Safari so good

'walls' of double-thick canvas. It came complete with electricity, king size bed, crisp cotton sheets, and ensuite bathroom with a Victorian rolltop bath, shower and flushing loo.

There are only 10 tents at this intimate, exclusive sanctuary, which has no fences and blends so smoothly into the environment that the wildlife feels as 'at home' wandering through as paying guests. Guards are on hand at all times to avoid any close encounters of the wrong sort.

While facilities and food at the camp are of the highest 21st century standard, the safari experience is like stepping out of time. Awoken for tea at 6am – sunrise and sunset are the best time to see the animals – we climbed sleepily into an open truck to 'stalk' the game.

Time and again our guide took us almost within touching distance of the game.

Nothing compares with the prized sight of a pride of lions. After hours of scanning the plains, there's a real thrill of achievement when you find them.

Later, our superb three-course dinners in the open air were enlivened by the musical accompaniment of the noises of the bush – croaking bullfrogs, crickets and the far-off cries of hyena.

It was soon time to drive up into the hillside to our next stop. Mara Bushtops is like an eagle's eerie with spectacular views across Mara Siana wildlife conservancy, bordering the Masai Mara.

Its accommodation is five-star, with tents on solid wooden floors facing out over the valley. A verandah, complete with a hot tub allows you to 'wallow' in much the same way as animals at the waterhole far below.

SPOT THE DIFFERENCE

Can you spot the five differences between these two pictures of a street in Gillingham?

Answers to all of this week's timeout questions can be found on our website

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21-Feb 19)

IT'S better to trust your intuition than consult with friends. This will be a little scary at first, but it will also prove rewarding. Keep your thoughts to yourself between now and mid-February. A romance that fell by the wayside could come roaring back to life again in February.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Aquarius 09067-531762

TAURUS (Apr 21-May 21)

YOUR religious, political, or philosophical beliefs are about to undergo a serious overhaul. You're starting to question the ideals with which you were raised. Talks with your boss could prove unproductive. The two of you will be working at cross purposes over the next three weeks.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Taurus 09067-531753

LEO (Jul 24-Aug 23)

DAILY life is about to undergo a transformation. Although this will force you to relinquish mainstream society, it will benefit you. It may be time to reconsider certain arrangements. You've been doing the lion's share of the work lately. Move to adjust the balance of a relationship.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Leo 09067-531756

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22)

YOU could be trusted with secret information over the next few days. It's important to stay silent about these matters. Don't make any decisions regarding moving for the next three weeks, unless you plan to renew an existing lease. Be assertive in a relationship. You won't be sorry.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Scorpio 09067-531759

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20)

YOUR personal objectives are very different from what they were a few months ago. Career goals are less important than close relationships. Getting closer to your nearest and dearest gives you a profound sense of contentment. Move forward with a stalled domestic project.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Pisces 09067-531763

GEMINI (May 22-Jun 22)

A NEW interest could take you down some interesting paths over the next few years. Finding sexual fulfilment will become another priority. A political or religious figure could prompt you to revise your ideas about a philosophical matter and inspire you to challenge the status quo.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Gemini 09067-531754

VIRGO (Aug 24-Sep 23)

AN overwhelming desire for romance and creativity could prompt you to make changes. There's no need to rush into anything; you should lay your plans with care and consider all the ins and outs of what you have in mind as they are bound to affect those nearest to you.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Virgo 09067-531757

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21)

YOU'LL need to be more resourceful regarding money. Cash won't come in as easily as it has during the past few years. That's fine; you're not wasteful by nature. Still, this would be a good time to explore ways to adopt more environmentally-friendly ways.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Sagittarius 09067-531760

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 20)

AN increased need to succeed could prompt you to work harder and develop your leadership skills. Certain friendships will undergo changes between now and mid-February. Wasting time on people who don't have your best interests at heart is becoming a bit of a bore.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Aries 09067-531752

CANCER (Jun 23-Jul 23)

POWER struggles can emerge in close relationships. You're no longer willing to take a back seat. Similarly, people who feel they have been overshadowed by you will challenge your authority. Although it will be difficult to change these partnerships, this shift will prove rewarding.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Cancer 09067-531755

LIBRA (Sep 24-Oct 23)

IT'S time to break away from a restrictive emotional bond. You won't have to relinquish relationships altogether. You just need to claim a measure of independence. A lost love could return. Before you revert to old ways, sit and talk. You'll soon see very little has changed.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Libra 09067-531758

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 20)

YOUR self image will undergo a radical change over the next few years. It may be necessary to alter your budget a bit. Cutting back on expensive luxuries will enable you to work less and play more. This is a good week to begin a brisk exercise regimen.

Amanda judges time is right to get out of Africa

■ BY BEN FALK

LAST time we heard about Amanda Holden, the actress had discovered a dead body in the woods while she was out on a run.

It was in November and the star was out for a jog with her personal trainer when they happened across an unfortunate soul who had hanged himself from a tree.

"Can I just say, when I found the dead body, the papers said I was 39 and I'm 36!" she says. "I was more traumatised by the fact they got my age wrong than the fact I found a stiff."

"I'm so terrible, because obviously someone did lose their loved one and I don't mean to be flippant."

"I did say I could take over from Amanda Burton in Silent Witness now, because I wasn't fazed by it, purely because I didn't think it was real."

"It was awful, but not as traumatising as it could have been."

At the moment she is in gruelling training for this year's London Marathon. "I won't be like Jade Goody," she reveals. "I am training three or four times a week. I'm knackered. I went out this morning. It's good though, because you can eat loads of cake."

It's a typical Amanda response – self-deprecating, witty, honest.

Whatever you may think of her past tabloid travails (though that stuff has all settled down now she is happily ensconced with beau Chris Hughes and baby Lexi), she's never less than cheerily candid, an increasing rarity amongst celebs.

That's why she has to actively stop herself when asked about her exit from Wild At Heart, the third series of which is now underway on ITV1.

WILD AT HEART: Amanda Holden is set to bid farewell to co-star Stephen Tompkinson in the hit ITV1 drama

"I can't discuss the ending," she giggles. "I keep getting into trouble for giving it away."

Amanda plays vet's wife Sarah in the show, who along with husband Danny (Stephen Tompkinson) has made a new life for herself on a nature reserve in Africa. A warm and cuddly weekend drama, the end of her contract meant an important decision, though not, it turns out, a difficult one.

"To be honest, it wasn't," she admits. "Lexi is nearly two now and it got to the point where I couldn't take her out of the country for six months of the year. It's not fair on my family, it's not really fair on her."

"She was a babe in arms last year, so I had her on set all the time. But she's inherited the noisy gene from her mother and she's not really quiet on set, so we both got told off a lot for speaking. She's walking around and there's a lot of poo and creepy-crawlies, so it's not really the best environment for her."

Nonetheless, shooting her final scenes ended up being one of Amanda's best experiences working on the show.

"It was brilliantly exciting, because it's all very action-packed. I felt like GI Jane, because it was physical and with lots of screaming," she explains.

"It was an emotional day, but it passed and the people that I loved there I'll stay in contact with, so I haven't lost anything really."

Is there a chance she will come back? "I did have lunch with the producer who is trying to make me come back!" she laughs. "So that's all I'll say. He can't afford me. Now I'm working for the Cowell, my expectations are high."

She confirms she is back alongside Simon Cowell as a judge for the next series of Britain's Got Talent, which is set to begin filming this month and transmit later in the year.

"I'm loving the light entertainment side of things at the moment," she says. "We start filming for three months, going round the country, auditioning."

That said, she is only signing up for one series at a time, partly so that she can try and combine it with acting and her home life (she reveals that 2008 "will be" the year she finally gets married) and partly so she can focus her energy on the Marathon, which she is doing on behalf of the Born Free Foundation, of which she is a patron.

Who's top of our hit parade?

Could you B our next video star?

THIS week the music page is brought to you by the letter B, specifically Graham B, who has uploaded his latest musical recommendation.

The track-suited taste maker explains how his auditory choices are limited by the fact he earns £5.50 an hour, but this doesn't stop him going absolutely mental to an early 90s remix of Sesame Street.

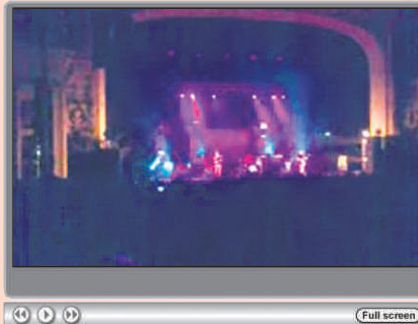

We hope to hear more of Graham's favourites over the coming weeks.

Also gracing Yourkenttv this week is My Last Mistake's tour diary. The Maidstone duo perform a stripped down version of a new song from what may be the bedroom of a Travel Lodge.

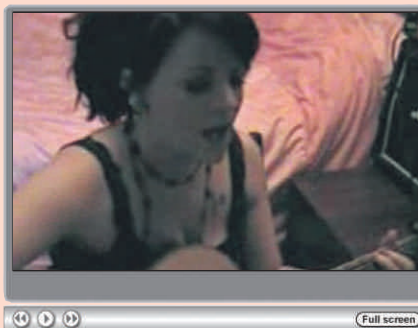

The band promise more to come as they work their way round the UK. All of which means you should bookmark www.yourkenttv.co.uk today for the best in local music.

Hayle Mill scheme proves a success

MORE than a third of properties at the Hayle Mill project in Maidstone have been sold and developer PJ Livesey is forecasting a healthy 2008.

The mill conversion features a Grade-II listed building as well as new homes, and is in the Loose Valley conservation area.

The mill itself is in the process of being converted into one, two and three-bedroom homes, which include a mixture of mews cottages, houses and apartments.

The complex sits alongside a stream and a large mill pond and is close to the centre of the town.

Sales manager Colette Gannon said: "These are picturesque properties and because there are such a small number of them they have attracted a lot of interest."

"With reference to the converted properties, each is designed to maximise the potential of the historic buildings by utilising original features to present prospective buyers with an original 'one off' opportunity."

Prices at Hayle Mill start at £202,950.

Click on to insure your home abroad

UK RESIDENTS are increasingly buying homes abroad, either as holiday venues or places to live in after retirement.

With affordable housing prices and agreeable climates, countries such as France and Spain have become popular second home destinations.

But as budget airlines expand their routes and make travel to places further afield easier and cheaper, some less well known places are seeing investment from these shores.

To allow for this www.protection-insurance.com, a specialist website has increased its holiday home insurance policy and now covers 44 countries. Recent additions include Bulgaria, Montenegro, Estonia, Finland, Norway and Thailand.

Aimed specifically at the owners of properties abroad, the company says it removes the difficulties of dealing with foreign insurers.

Jason Hulott, business development manager for the website, said: "This enhancement to our range of holiday home insurance products will prove invaluable to anyone owning an overseas holiday home."

"The English language policy ensures customers know exactly what is covered and means that premiums and any claims are paid in sterling."

HEART OF THE HOME: Buyers place a higher value on the quality of the kitchen they do on any other part of the house when making their buying decision

Why luxury kitchen is the recipe for success

■ BY NICK AMES

THE kitchen is the heart of the home according to new research which shows that it is the place where families come together to socialise.

A survey discovered that time, energy and cash is spent by the majority of homeowners to ensure a state-of-the-art setting for culinary experiments and meals.

Housebuilders Redrow are behind the study which revealed three of the top ten optional extras for the home were upgrades to the kitchen.

Integrated kitchen appliances such as cookers, freezers and work surfaces were among the most popular choices, as was the installation of downlighters.

Simon Bennett, the company's marketing director, said: "It's true to say that the kitchen is the nucleus of most family homes, a place where families come together not only to eat, but to talk and socialise."

"We design our kitchens with this in mind, incorporating breakfast or seating areas as much as possible and sometimes with family areas alongside, where children can play safely under their parents' supervision."

"On every development we offer a good choice of kitchen cabinets and workshop finishes, from the traditional to the modern, plus splash-back tiling and vinyl flooring."

"Many customers are taking this to the next level by choosing to upgrade to our top-of-the-range kitchens with fully-integrated appliances, granite workshops, ceramic floor tiles and downlighters, proving that the kitchen is definitely at the heart of the home."

Redrow, who build around 5,000 new homes each year across England, Scotland and Wales, has just launched a scheme offering ways for people to personalise their homes by offering upgrades and extra fittings.

These range from taps to tiling, fireplaces in various designs, extra TV or phone points and alternative doors and handles.

The company also offers optional extras for those concerned about energy saving and preventing unnecessary emissions.

Included are kitchen waste segregation equipment, tap water flow restrictors, solar collectors, low energy lighting and advanced heating controls.

Other popular items include luxury bathroom fittings, carpets throughout the home, burglar alarms and additional fitted wardrobes.

MOTORS NEWS

Fiat's fortunes are looking up at last

FIAT is riding high in the aftermath of launching the highly-acclaimed Fiat 500.

An example of the retro-styled city car is still circling in a capsule aboard the London Eye – as pictured and part of last week's lavish launch event – while the parent company has announced a huge return to profitability.

For many years, Fiat suffered well-documented losses but the Italian group has announced a record trading profit of 3.2 billion euros for 2007 – 66 per cent up on 2006 and the car division almost doubled its profit over 2006, to 1.1 billion euros.

Sales of 2.234m vehicles was also the best in seven years.

Car dealers upbeat about used market

USED car dealers are positive about 2008, despite the credit crunch and faltering consumer confidence.

But research by motor valuation specialist CAP shows dealers see a need to better match stock to customer tastes.

Some plan to feature 'unusual' or more 'exotic' cars to tempt customers, while others will focus on lower mileage, smaller/more economical cars and higher specification cars.

Half will stock more diesels than a year ago – “Expect BMW diesel (pictured) values to rise even faster then,” says Kosmedia motoring editor Steve Loader.

Multi-purpose luxury

CITROEN is taking the compact MPV to new levels of luxury with the Lounge special edition of the award-winning C4 Picasso.

The £23,995 Lounge features full black leather upholstery for four large individual armchair style seats, chrome wheels, premium sound system, vast panoramic sunroof, black bodywork, sporty rear spoiler and a special chrome grille.

Power comes from a 2.0 HDi 138bhp turbodiesel, paired with a six-speed fully automatic gearbox and offers a maximum 118mph and almost 40mpg on the combined cycle.

VERSATILE: The Toyota Verso offers a stylish exterior and all the practicalities required of an MPV, plus a drive quality that puts many of its competitors in the shade

If you've no choice but to buy an MPV...

WOULD anyone buy an MPV unless they really had to?

I ask myself this every time I road test one and weigh the pros of more space, versatility and, sometimes, extra seats against the cons: ugliness, extra costs and terminal image failure that cannot be saved by fancy alloys and a joke spoiler.

A possible exception is Toyota's midi contender, the Verso. The car's looks are not to everyone's tastes but, within the constraints of a 'one-box' MPV design, I reckon the Toyota cuts a dash.

The view inside is equally impressive; Toyota has created an air of distinction and quality and more chance than most MPVs of deferring the inevitable “Are we there yet?” whine.

Our T180 flagship was, of course, equipped with the ultimate deterrent: a DVD system with screens on the backs of the front seats, allowing two warring factions to be kept amused.

Then, should WWII still ensue, that's when the rear privacy glass ensures the rest of the world is kept blissfully unaware of it.

But what really impresses about all Versos is their driving appeal.

The T180 is particularly good, with dramatic low down pulling power from its 175bhp 2.2-litre turbodiesel making for impressive acceleration through a crisp and precise six-speed gearbox, yet it is neither raucous or coarse so an average of 40+mpg and relaxed motorway cruising is also part of the package.

Ride quality is a shrewd mixture of comfort plus taut handling with feedback through the wheel excellent for this class – whisper it, but I quite enjoyed a week with the car, mostly driving solo.

Versatility and space is top notch with both rearmost rows of seats folding flat to the floor for easy loading in 'van mode'. The middle ones also slide to vary boot space or legroom for those in the rearmost seats.

Like many rivals, using full seven-seat capacity means that boot space is modest, though no buyer of seven-seaters in this class should expect to use the cramped extra pair more than occasionally – for the school run perhaps.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

FAMILY/COMPANY CARS

IT'S getting tough in the family/company car arena. Prestige names like BMW, Audi and Mercedes have moved into territory once dominated by the Ford Mondeo and Vauxhall Vectra. Cars of this size have also faced competition from rising sales in the people carrier/MPV and 4x4/SUV sectors. The response from mainstream carmakers has been to go for more quality, as shown by the latest VW Passat and Toyota Avensis, and Ford has hit back with the latest Ford Mondeo by shifting it upmarket, though the previous car remains a tough competitor.

VW PASSAT

VW's previous Passat set a higher benchmark for quality and the new version raised the bar again. The German giant recognised the best way to counter upmarket rivals, including sister marque Audi, was by upping the standard of the overall package. So the new Passat is more spacious, drives better than the previous model and looks good. Factor in some of the best engines, petrol or diesel, on the market plus modest pricing and it looks irresistible.

FORD MONDEO

SUCCESS almost undid the Mondeo. Ford's clout in the market for company cars means that the car used to sell in huge numbers. But being commonplace with an everyday badge on the bonnet led to avoidance by some private buyers, even though it offers a terrific mix of handling and ride; saloon, hatchback and capacious estate body styles; plus a huge range of engines and specifications – the diesels are a big improvement on those in previous Mondeos.

TOYOTA AVENSIS

TOYOTA didn't have a great record in this sector before the latest Avensis. The previous model and its predecessor, the Carina II, were reliable but dull. The latest car is anything but mundane: styling is distinctive, build quality impeccable, refinement inspired by Toyota's luxury brand Lexus and it drives well. There is also a choice of saloon, hatchback and roomy-yet-stylish estate and two-litre and 2.2 turbo-diesels. Best of all, the Avensis comes with Toyota reliability built in.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR ACCEPTANCE OF ADVERTISEMENTS CREDIT ACCOUNT

- KOS Media (Publishing) Ltd ("the publisher") reserves the right of any advertisement without notice or explanation. In these terms the word "advertiser" shall be construed to include any person or organisation placing an advertisement on behalf of another.
- Guarantee of insertion cannot be given and the publishers shall not be liable for any loss or damage caused by any error inaccuracy in the printing of an advertisement or by the total or partial failure (however caused) of publication or distribution of any publication in which an advertisement is scheduled to appear. In no case shall the total liability of the publisher for any misprint, error or omission exceed the price charged by the publisher for that advertisement.
- Advertisements will be accepted only on the express condition that the advertiser warrants that the advertisement does not in any way contravene any existing legislation and in particular the Trade and Description Act 1968 and the Consumer Credit Act 1974.
- It is the responsibility of all advertisers to ensure that recruitment related advertising meets current employment legislation and KOS Media takes no responsibility for liability in errors and omissions to the content of this newspaper, relating to employment law.
- Where shrinkage of an advertisement occurs for whatever reason, the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
- Claims for any error or inaccuracy in the printing of an advertisement must be made within 10 days of publication to the accounts department in writing.
- No liability is accepted for any loss or damage alleged to have arisen through delay in forwarding replies to Box numbers, however caused, nor for the loss or damage to any artwork supplied.
- Advertisers are requested to check their advertisements after the first insertion. The publisher will not be responsible for any errors on subsequent insertions, which have not been advised to them.
- Cancellation must be advised in writing one week prior to date of publication of an advertisement.
- All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
- Should the rate for advertisements be altered, the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly.
- a) All credit accounts due for payment shall be notified to the Advertiser by the 30th day following the date of the invoice, time to be of the essence. All sums due to the Publishers shall be paid in full, and the Advertiser shall have no right of set off in any circumstances.
b) In the event that payment is not received by the Publishers by the due date, the Publisher shall be entitled to suspend all further advertising until payment is received and/or repudiate the contract.
c) In the event that payment is not received by the Publishers by the due date the Publisher reserves the right to charge interest on all overdue balances calculated on a daily basis at the rate of two per cent above the minimum lending rate of National Westminster Bank Plc from time to time in force.
d) Notwithstanding anything in these terms and conditions or implied to the contrary, in the event of the Advertiser ceasing to use the services of the Publisher (for whatever reason), the whole amount of monies due from the Advertiser to the date of cessation shall fall due for immediate payment.
e) The Advertiser will be liable for all costs incurred by the Publisher in the recovery of debts not paid by the due date.
f) Payment may be made by cheque, credit transfer, direct debit, cash and any major credit card.
- Any discount which the Publisher may have agreed with the Advertiser shall be forfeited in the event of failure by the Advertiser to complete the contract or to meet the above credit terms.
- Advertising Agency commission will be allowed to those advertisers recognised by the Newspaper Society, but shall not exceed ten per cent and will be subject to the terms of that recognition. This commission will not be allowed if the Advertising Agency fails to meet the terms.
- All private advertisement and certain categories as laid down by the Publisher must be prepaid.
- The Advertiser agrees to indemnify both the publisher and the Group in respect of all costs, damages or other charges falling upon the Publisher or any of the companies within the Group as the result of legal action or threatened legal action or threatened legal arising from the publication of the advertisement.
- Order for an advertisement shall amount to acceptance of these terms and conditions, and any condition placed on an order by an Advertiser shall be null and void in so far as it conflicts with them.
- Copyright in advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the publishers consent.

Our standards in Housing Services are moving in one direction...

Operations and Housing Services Housing Services

Gravesham is a diverse borough facing exciting challenges in the future. We are at the heart of the Thames Gateway and on the brink of massive growth and development, so if you've got vision, imagination and ambition, there's no better place to progress your career.

Tenancy Services Manager Ref: TSM/WA

Salary: Package up to Circa £45,000

Reporting to the Housing Operations Manager, you will lead our council tenancy management service, you'll build on what we've achieved to date, while continually raising standards.

As we provide housing services to around 6,000 households, this is a major challenge and you'll need to use your skills and talents to the full. You will have a proven track record in providing tenancy services, first class communication, negotiation, consultation and influencing skills.

Caretaker Services Co-ordinator Ref: CSO/WA

Salary: Package up to Circa £27,000

This is an exciting opportunity for an individual with the skills to further develop caretaking services provided to residents across the borough. Tenants regularly inform us that a good caretaking service is one of their main priorities and this role is therefore a key one within the department.

Reporting to the Tenancy Services Manager, you will manage, and lead our caretaking service and ensure innovation and best practice are core to the delivery of the caretaking service.

Neighbourhood Development Worker Ref: NDW/EMK

Salary: Circa £17,000 – £21,000

This is an exciting opportunity for an individual with the skills to encourage and facilitate the involvement of residents across the borough. In accordance with the Council's resident involvement strategy you will develop and support a range of tenant participation initiatives and promote and develop effective partnerships between residents, members and staff.

You will have proven experience in tenant participation, resident involvement, community development or social housing; excellent written and verbal communication skills and an innovative approach to problem solving. You will be required to undertake data analysis therefore IT literacy is essential.

Rent Arrears Officer Ref: RAO/WA

Salary: Circa £17,000 – £21,000

In this varied role you will be responsible for carrying out arrears recovery action which will include attending court. A strong team player, you will have the ability to work effectively to meet targets for rent collection and arrears. You will have experience of debt recovery, good communication and IT skills and the ability to prepare reports and present cases.

A full driving licence and use of a vehicle is essential as you will be required to carry out home visits throughout the borough.

Director of FE Curriculum

Salary £75,000 37 hours per week

Post Ref:DFE

Exciting developments continue at Canterbury College, one of the largest providers of FE in the South East. These include a new campus redevelopment offering modern state of the art facilities. With rising success rates, growth in recruitment and a positive recent Ofsted inspection, Canterbury College is determined to be one of the best FE colleges in the south east by 2010, meeting the needs of students, employers and communities in East Kent and beyond.

Now the College is looking for a new Director of FE Curriculum to be a key member of the Senior Management Team and to deputise for the Principal. Reporting to the Principal you'll be responsible for shaping the future direction of the whole of the FE curriculum, across seven Faculties and the satellite Sheppey College.

Up to date knowledge of the FE curriculum and a good understanding of key national developments is essential. So too is a commitment to excellence, a focus on delivery and strategic understanding. A self-starter with drive, energy and enthusiasm, you'll have the presence, credibility and influencing skills to inspire confidence in staff, partner schools and all those with whom you'll engage. In return you'll gain the experience and the support to position you for leading your own college.

Hadlow College is located in the heart of Kent and is in the top 3 land-based colleges for success and achievement!

With an outstanding Ofsted result, over £4.5 million invested into the College since 2002/3 and another £12 million to invest over the next two years, the resources and facilities are second to none.

Lecturer, Animal Management

£21,762 to £29,337 per annum
Three months fixed term contract.

A member of our team is taking a sabbatical to undertake wildlife conservation research in Zambia and we are therefore looking for a highly motivated individual to cover his teaching while he is gone. Joining a vibrant and enthusiastic team, you will be required to tutor, teach and give practical instruction in Animal Management to a range of students on Further and Higher Education courses at our Hadlow and Canterbury campuses.

The successful candidate will need practical experience in an animal care industry plus teaching experience in a practical and/or classroom setting. A keen interest in a wide range of animal related subjects is essential, as is a qualification in an animal related subject (Degree, Vet Nursing, etc).

In addition to the minimum requirements detailed above, candidates will also need a teaching qualification or the willingness to work towards one, excellent communication and IT skills and the ability to work well as part of a team. Qualifications A1/A2 (or D32 and D33) would also be an advantage.

This post is for a fixed term period of three months commencing in April 2008. Depending on student recruitment however, this post could lead to a more permanent opportunity in 2008/9.

To receive an information pack and application form please telephone the Human Resources Department on 01732 850551 or e-mail us at 'jobs@hadlow.ac.uk'.

The closing date is Monday, 11th February 2008.

"Who can bring innovative and fresh new ideas?"

You.

MARKETING EXECUTIVE – HOLIDAYS

Competitive salary + excellent benefits package | Folkestone

Whether it's an adventure in Nepal or a short break in Cornwall, we have one goal: to deliver the very best holidays to discerning travellers aged 50 and over. An innovative range of products spanning some 65 countries make Saga Holidays one of the UK's leading and most trusted brands. And people like you drive our success still further.

That's because you've the talent to take on an exciting role that will see you maximise potential marketing opportunities. From managing literature production and reviewing creative work to planning campaigns, you'll handle a wide range of different projects at the same time. In all of this, we'll look to you to constantly challenge propositions as you bring fresh new ideas.

So you'll definitely need an entrepreneurial and imaginative approach, though the ability to work under pressure and to deadlines is every bit as important. Excellent communication and negotiating skills are also essential, plus proven marketing experience and ideally a good knowledge of the holiday industry.

In return, you can look forward to an excellent benefits package including a subsidised staff restaurant, social club, medical insurance, pension, excellent career development opportunities and concessions for holidays and travel.

If it's time you proved your talents with a major brand leader, please write enclosing your CV and covering letter, stating your salary expectations, to Sally-Jane Plenge, Senior Group HR Officer, Saga Group Limited, The Saga Building, Enbrook Park, Folkestone, Kent CT20 3SE or e-mail: human.resources@saga.co.uk

Closing date: 8 February 2008. Please quote reference: SH167/KOS.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

SeaFrance's new faces

SEAFRANCE has added two new faces to its marketing team to help promote its cross-Channel ferry services.

Mark Whitling has been taken on as online marketing executive. He previously worked as assistant communications manager for the Oxleas NHS Foundation Trust.

Jenny Marshall has also been appointed in the role of marketing communications executive after studying business administration with marketing.

Banking on the Gateway

CLYDESDALE Bank has launched a dedicated team to help businesses make the most of opportunities for growth within the Thames Gateway.

The new team, initially based in Maidstone, will focus on the region stretching from Dartford to Swale, which has been earmarked by the Government for massive investment in infrastructure and the construction of thousands of new homes.

Save on staff sick days

BUSINESSES have been urged to provide instant health checks for employees and save money by reducing the number of days they have off sick.

Water, based in Marden, want companies to take up well-being checks following a survey by CBI/AXA, which discovered employee sickness costs businesses an average of £600-a-year per worker.

Exports still strong despite downturn

MANUFACTURING demand in the South East has remained firm in the face of serious concerns of a global economic downturn, according to the latest CBI Industrial Trends survey.

BY TONY PATEY

Three months ago bosses were expressing their fears as the credit crunch began to bite – but their pessimism faded as orders for British-made goods continued to hold up and exports grew at their fastest rate for 12 years.

Malcolm Hyde, CBI South East Regional Director, said: "Manufacturers share similar concerns to other sectors about the economy – a fear that rising costs might become combined with slowing demand."

"Thankfully, the expected wobble in demand didn't materialise in the last three months and orders for British-made goods have held up, particularly from abroad."

"What we are seeing is part of a necessary rebalancing of the economy, in the face of slowing consumer spending."

He said the dilemma now facing the Bank of England over interest rates is to weigh risks of a slowdown with the real and present pressure on prices in both factories and other areas of the economy.

"Price pressures from oil and food costs will bring higher inflation in the short-term and may push the inflation rate further above target during 2008, making the Bank's decision even more difficult," he said.

Although export orders in particular are remaining healthy, rising food and energy costs mean bosses expect their domestic prices to go up at the fastest rate for 13 years, pushing up export prices faster than they have done over the last two years.

Demand has continued to grow, with 28 per cent of firms saying total new orders increased in the three months to January compared with 17 per cent reporting a decrease. This exceeded expectations, but slower growth is expected in the next three months.

But demand this quarter was for the most part driven by export orders, no doubt helped by the weaker pound – though much of the currency's depreciation occurred after the survey was conducted.

Exports grew at the fastest rate since October 1995, but concerns that political and economic conditions abroad will limit orders over the coming three months have increased slightly since October and expectations are for flat growth in the next three months.

FEARS FADE: Wobble in demand didn't materialise and orders for British goods have held up

Pupils get visit from rugby star

FORMER England rugby star Alastair Hignell visited pupils at the Sutton Valence School in Maidstone last Friday to give a talk about professionalism in sport.

Hignell played for England 14 times in his career, making his first appearance in 1975 and his final in a 27-3 defeat to Wales in 1979. However, the former England full back was diagnosed with Multiple Sclerosis in 1999. Since then Hignell has been battling against the disease that affects the central nervous system.

The BBC Radio Five Live rugby correspondent also advised pupils on careers in sport and the media.

Sprint champion meets F1 heroes

BRITISH Sprint Champion Matt Oliver hopes to retain the title after dominating in 2007.

The 22-year-old competes in the sprint discipline which sees drivers compete against the clock over one lap and around motor racing circuits across the UK. The driver from Maidstone travels all over the country competing at circuits in a Formula One powered single-seater.

Oliver enjoyed meeting two of his sporting heroes, as he picked up his championship trophy at Motor Sports Association's annual Night of Champions last week.

He said: "It was a brilliant feeling to mingle with some of the sport's biggest stars. I spoke to former F1 champion Damon Hill who was interested in my sport which was nice to see. Talking to Lewis Hamilton was excellent; he is really down to earth. My sport is a very technical discipline. You have to give your all for just one lap and hope you can nail a decent time. Travelling at speeds of 170mph is challenging."

BACK ON TRACK: Maidstone United are back to winning ways after a disappointing performance last week thanks to a clinical penalty from striker Mo Takaloo

A SECOND half penalty from Mo Takaloo proved the difference between the two sides as Maidstone United just about did enough to secure a victory.

United welcomed back Irish midfielder Conor Hagan for the match after his suspension. However, the Stones were without injured left back Craig Roser and centre back Chris Smalling who was on England Schoolboy duty.

Maidstone should have opened the scoring as early as the sixth minute, when Takaloo threaded a through ball to Lynden Rowland. With the goal at his mercy his powerful shot was straight at the goalkeeper Sam Tanner, who tipped the ball over the bar.

Goalkeeper Pat Mullin kept the Stones in the match with a point blank save from Rodderick Osei-Owusu's effort from eight yards, just minutes later.

Takaloo almost opened the scoring on the stroke of half-time. His curling shot beat the Leyton wall only for it to crash off the post.

Two minutes after the restart the referee gave what appeared to be a soft penalty to the visitors. Hagan burst into the area and defender Ben Gracey's clumsy challenge sent the midfielder crashing to the floor. Takaloo stepped up and sent Tanner the wrong way to give his side the lead.

The Maidstone goal scorer was later replaced by Alex Tiesse, as United went in search of another goal. The Ivorian striker should have increased their lead on 68 minutes. Nick Hegley sent a pin point cross to the head of Tiesse, but Tanner once again produced another save.

In the final ten minutes, goal scoring opportunities fell to Tiesse, Hagan and Hegley, but Tanner in the Leyton goal was equal to them. The result was Leyton's tenth consecutive defeat and the three points has lifted the Stones to 11th in the Ryman Premier League.

Stones manager Alan Walker still believes he can capture the two strikers he has been after despite missing out last week. He also hopes to bring in a number of players after claiming that many of his squad are not good enough for Ryman Premier League football.

He said: "I am very disappointed that we have missed out on signing the two strikers we have been after. I had hoped we would have them at the club before the match. I will try again this week. Myself and Lloyd (Hume) are working as hard as we can to bring in more players. After the disappointing performance against Billericay, a number of players have had their last chance. The clock is ticking and it may be a time for a number of players to leave."

Maidstone face Kent rivals Ramsgate this Saturday as the two teams clash at Bourne Park.

COSTLY VICTORY: Maidstone smashed their opposition but lost yet another player due to a serious injury before their important Kent Cup match this weekend

Injury crisis at The Mote

A DEPLETED Maidstone managed to put their injury crisis behind them to produce a convincing victory – despite a 25 minute delay.

Maidstone were without Tommy King who was still suffering from bruised ribs and Andy Bacon who fractured a neck vertebra. By the end of the game the injury list was to increase.

However, Maidstone took the lead shortly after the start when Martin Arnold passed the ball to centre Mike Catherwood. He beat his opposite number to score in the corner. The conversion attempt slid wide.

The injury list increased just 12 minutes into the game as Craig Whitehead had to be replaced after fracturing his ankle. There was a 25 minute delay as an ambulance came to pick up the injured Whitehead.

Maidstone reshuffled their squad by putting Catherwood in at scrum half and moved Nick Van Mol into the centre. On the restart, the home side piled on the pressure and scored another try through Scott Mitchell. Maidstone added a penalty before the break.

Guildford began the second half with something to prove and they managed to breach the Maidstone defence for the first time. Their fly-half spotted a gap in the defence to score a try, reducing the deficit to 15-5.

Maidstone raised their game and their swift attacking play proved crucial in the victory. Arnold used his pace to score in the corner to increase their lead. Catherwood and Nick Taylor also capitalised on a weak Guildford defence, both scoring tries to seal the victory.

The result cements Maidstone's position in fourth place in London 2 South. The much needed win after being thrashed by Sidcup, will raise the squad's morale as they face Old Colfeians in the quarter-final of the Kent Cup.

Bulls stampede to win after bad start

RUGBY

BY YOURMAIDSTONE REPORTER

Aylesford Bulls 29 Lewes 10

CLINICAL attacking rugby was the key to unlocking Lewes as Aylesford Bulls claimed their eighth victory of the season.

However, the Bulls got off to the worst start possible by conceding a try after just two minutes. The Aylesford defence failed to deal with a quick counter attack by Lewes which concluded with their forwards crashing over the try line.

The try sparked the Bulls into action and their stranglehold of possession was rewarded by four penalties in the space of ten minutes. Fly half Dave Dorton stepped up and kicked all of them successfully to take the score to 12-5.

Shortly before the break, Aylesford increased their advantage with a well worked try finished by scrum half Toby Lord. His dummied pass and jinking run left the Lewes defence in shreds which allowed for an easy conversion for Dorton.

After the interval, lowly Lewes got back into the match with a slick move ending with their winger sliding over in the corner two minutes before the hour.

The victory was sealed in the last minutes of the match when a cross field move instigated by the Bulls was finished clinically by Adriaan Engelbrecht. Dorton added the extras.

Coach Nick France said: "We are hoping that either Gravesend or Dover slip up in the next few weeks so we can close the gap on them. The side are really starting to play well, I just wish we started the season the way we are playing now."

The victory sees the Bulls rise to within a point of third-placed Lordswood in London South East 3. Aylesford will be in action this Saturday against Tonbridge Juddians.

SECOND HALF RECOVERY: Aylesford Bulls fought back from going behind early on to record their fourth consecutive victory

yourmaidstone SPORT IN BRIEF

Sevenoaks put an end to Ladies' promotion hopes

A SECOND consecutive defeat has left Maidstone Ladies' promotion hopes in tatters.

Despite a 7-4 victory in their previous meeting, Maidstone's 3rd XI were unable to compete against a solid Sevenoaks side. Maidstone could only score once in 3-1 defeat.

The result has left them in fourth place on 18 points, now six points adrift of league leaders Tunbridge Wells. They will hope to get back to winning ways when they face sixth-placed Dartford on Saturday.

United players perform well for England boys

MAIDSTONE United players Chris Smalling and Ashley Ulph were in the starting line up for the England Schoolboys team on Sunday.

The two 18-year-olds were part of a 2-0 victory for England against Australia. Centre back Smalling was one of two players in the squad who played the entire 90 minutes. He also provided the assist for England's first goal, scored by Tom Siddons.

Their next fixture for England will be their clash with Northern Ireland at Glenavon FC on March 10.

Not an optimistic result for Valance Ladies

SUTTON Valance Ladies Hockey Club suffered their third defeat of the season at the hands of Folkestone Optimist.

Two goals from Anna Kish were not enough for Valance as Folkestone scored four in a 4-2 win. The result leaves Sutton Valance on 20 points in third place. However, they are just a point behind second-placed Sevenoaks in Kent Division 2.

This Saturday, Valance face Gillingham Anchorians who are bottom of the league. In their previous meeting Valance won 6-3.

Semi-final hopes gone for Maidstone reserves

A CHANCE to appear in the semi-final of the Kent Intermediate Cup disappeared for Maidstone United reserves as they were beaten by Whitstable.

The Oystermen scored three times as Maidstone were outplayed in a 3-0 defeat. United will be back in league action this weekend when they take on Erith Town. Town are cemented to the bottom of league and are still searching for their first win of the season.

A win for Maidstone could see them rise to fourth place.

Masters: I thought friend would die

Picture ADY KERRY

LIFE SAVER: Dani Masters put her first aid skills into practice to save her friend's life before taking her place in the World Cup

DANI Masters has revealed how she saved a team mate's life just days before having to take her place for England in the Women's World Cup of Golf.

While playing at a pro-am tournament in Spain, Masters walked in to discover Kirsty Taylor on the floor of their hotel room, seconds from death.

Despite seeing her good friend in such a distressing situation, the Maidstone golfer acted quickly and used basic first aid to save Taylor's life.

She said: "She had stopped breathing and had turned bright blue. I put her in the recovery position and opened her airway because she had swallowed her tongue - it was the scariest thing I have ever seen in my life."

"As soon as she started breathing I just burst into tears because I thought she was going to die."

Masters learned the skills which saved Taylor's life when training as a child welfare officer before becoming a professional golfer.

GOLF

The pair flew back to the UK the following day, where Taylor was diagnosed with a brain tumour.

The shocking news came a day before the 36-year-old was scheduled to fly to South Africa, where she was due to compete in the Women's World Cup of Golf.

With Taylor recovering from successful brain surgery to remove the cancer, Masters was selected to represent England instead. While under normal circumstances this would be a great honour, the 24-year-old travelled to South Africa with mixed emotions.

The 2008 season begins this week with the Women's Australian Open in Melbourne, where Masters will hope all the noteworthy events happen on the course.

Masters said: "I really think I am going to be hungry enough to get a first win and get enough points to break into the team."
